November 2021

APPRECIATE ALL YOU HAVE

November is the month of giving and appreciation for all we have in our lives. It is the time to show children what empathy is, show them what giving without expecting in return looks like, and show them that they do not need to purchase things to show appreciation and kindness, but that a simple act will let someone know how much they care.

With everything going on in our world today, our children have seen, heard, and felt sadness that is not comparable to anything they have had to deal with before this time. We do need to keep our ears, mind, and heart open to their worries and how we can help them understand and place into words the emotions they feel.

How can parents help?

- Take a walk around the neighborhood, let the children talk.
- When driving, lower the music and have a discussion.
- At bedtime, read books geared towards showing emotions or channeling feelings.
- When out shopping, parents can pick up a conversation with children about what they are feeling at that moment.

Take time for family and friends. Appreciate all you have and all we have overcome.

WINTER WEAR

The days are beginning to get colder, winds are starting to blow harder, and the time for sweaters and jackets is upon us.

PLEASE make sure you are sending school color sweaters of hunter green, navy, white, or black. The jackets can be any color, but will only be worn OUTSIDE for PE or when they release for the day. The sweaters, if appropriate colors, can be worn throughout the day INSIDE the classroom and building. Please make sure there are no large logos on the sweaters. Also, please LABEL each sweater and jacket with your child’s first and last name.

(Our Lost & Found is over flowing with unnamed articles of clothing.)

Lastly, our weather is unpredictable, please make sure to watch the news or check your phone for the latest updates on the weather to assure your child is clothed appropriately for the weather.
